3CI PhD Conference Track Changing Europe - Changing Migration

Summary

A network of the Centre for Migration and Intercultural Studies (CeMIS) of the University of Antwerp, the Centre for Ethnic and Migration Studies (CEDEM) of the University of Liège and the Erasmus University research group Citizenship, Migration & the City (CIMIC) organises a three-year PhD Conference Track with financial support of the International Migration, Integration and Social Cohesion (IMISCOE) Research Network.

The 3CI PhD Conference track follows a three-year programme with the coordination rotating among the network partners and with a three-year general theme and a yearly changing specific subtheme. Under the 2013-2015 programme’s general theme Changing Europe - Changing Migration, CeMIS has hosted successfully the first 3CI PhD Conference Europe in the World on the Move in winter 2013-2014. CIMIC will host the second 3CI PhD Conference in winter 2014-2015. Finally, CEDEM will host the third 3CI PhD Conference in summer 2017.

The 3CI PhD Conference includes 5 days of intensive interdisciplinary training for 30 selected PhD students to support them with content, methodologies and critical perspectives to conduct their research.

Theme and subthemes

The 2013-2017 programme Changing Europe - Changing Migration focuses on the dynamic interplay between fundamental changes on global/European level (economic, political, cultural, social and juridical) and migration and integration mechanisms.

3CI PhD Conference winter 2013-2014

The first 3CI PhD Conference winter 2013-2014 Europe in a World on the Move focused on how the recent economic and political changes in Europe affect migration flows within and to Europe and the perceptions of Europe in the world.

3CI PhD Conference winter 2014-2015

The second 3CI PhD Conference winter 2014-2015 Transnationalism, Integration and Citizenship will focus on the interactions between patterns of transnationalism, integration and citizenship. This conference analyses contemporary migration within and to Europe and patterns of integration through a transnational lens. It will also address the role of migration and integration policies and the societal reception of categories of migrants in host countries. Furthermore, the conference will explicitly address two key issues for PhD students: (1) how to write a world class paper?; (2) and how to plan an academic career?
3CI PhD Conference summer 2017

CEDEM will host the third 3CI PhD Conference Migration and Urban Change. The conference will focus on the link between migration (old and new, in and out) and urban change, specifically but not exclusively at the cultural and political level.

Target group

A multidisciplinary and international group of 30 PhD students:
- conducting doctoral research that addresses the specific subtheme of the respective 3CI PhD Conference.
- selected on basis of their academic curriculum vitae and the extended abstract of their research paper.

2 places per organizing institute are reserved for successful candidates coming from the network partners (a maximum of 6 reserved places per year) to participate in the 3CI PhD Conference on the understanding that they meet the quality criteria. However, in a first phase the selection follows a blind selection procedure.

Programme

The 3CI PhD Conference includes 5 days of intensive interdisciplinary training to support the participating PhD students with content, methodologies and critical perspectives to conduct their research including:
- Theoretical and methodological classes taught by 3 internationally recognised academic experts on the subtheme of the respective 3CI PhD Conference;
- Classes taught by the promoters of the 3CI PhD Conference and other professors with focus on research currently running in the participating institutes
- round tables where the PhD students present their research, discuss with fellow participants and get feedback from the academic experts;
- academic guidance from the experts and staff of the organising institution;
- a field exercise organised in the city of Liège.

Round tables

Applicants have to submit an extended abstract (2000 words), which forms the basis for selection, describing their research project. After selection, the participants have to submit a research paper (min. 5000 words and max. 8000 words) in advance and have to prepare a presentation in which he/she presents his/her current research project. The abstract and paper should be structured as a research proposal: theme, state-of-art, objectives, hypotheses, research questions, detailed outline of the methodology, primarily findings, and gaps, problems and pitfalls.

In parallel round tables the participants have the opportunity to present their own research work (20 minutes) and receive feedback from the academic experts and fellow participants. S
Staff

Faculty

The network partner hosting the respective 3CI PhD Conference takes up the general coordination, administration and the academic coordination.

The promoters of all network partners are asked be present during the 3CI PhD Conference, to chair a day session, to provide academic guidance to the participants, and to give one or two classes focussing on research currently running at the respective partner’s institute.

Experts

For each 3CI PhD Conference international experts will be invited to give lectures and guidance.
